AMONG THE MINERS.

Ohio Coal Diggers Very Peculiarly Situated.

DONT KNOW WHERE THEY ARE AT

The Mine in Ohio and the Hopper in Pennsylvania and the Scale Is Different in the Two States—Marchers Arrested at Sandy Creek, Pa.—Probable Settlement in West Virginia—Elsewhere.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Since the strike among the coal miners renewed interest is being taken in the organization by the coal diggers of the various districts. Many applications are being received at headquarters for the organization of new locals and the outlook for a much stronger organization than ever is regarded as very good.

Information has been received from the Kanawha district, West Virginia, that a number of miners have resumed work at the scale price. President Hatchford is holding mass meetings in West Virginia and it is said he is meeting with marked success in his efforts to organize the miners of that state.

It is understood that the constitutionality of the new mining law in Pennsylvania requiring the weighing of coal before it is screened, is questioned. It has been the custom to screen the coal and then weigh it.

President Farms of this state has gone to East Palestine to investigate a peculiar situation. One of the mines there is located in Ohio, while the hopper is in Pennsylvania and the question is whether the miners shall be paid the Pennsylvania or Ohio scale price. President Farms will also investigate the claim that operators at Coshocton refuse to pay the scale price for day labor.

MARCHING STRIKERS STOPPED.

Even the Members of the Band Were Placed Under Arrest.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 14.—The deputy sheriffs at the Dearth coal mines made a raid on the strikers at Sandy Creek yesterday and arrested 15 men, including the members of the brass band. The strikers were marching on the public road and were halted by the deputies about a quarter of a mile from the tipple. The band refused to stop playing and the entire party was placed under arrest without any resistance.

The members of the band took their arrest good naturedly and played their instruments as they were escorted from the railroad station to the sheriff's office. Chief Deputy Van said the men were rioters and he feared trouble. This is denied by the strikers.

Superintendent Dearth claims that the three mines of the company are now running to their fullest capacity.

Trying to Adjust Their Differences.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 14.—A conference between the miners and five of the Kanawha coal operators will be held at Montgomery tomorrow, when an effort will be made to adjust their differences. President Hatchford, who is at Montgomery, stated over the telephone that he was confident the trouble between operators and their men would be adjusted at this conference.

Miners' strike in Colorado settled.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Oct. 14.—The strike of the 500 miners in the Hastings mine of the Victor Coal and Coke company has been settled by a compromise.

MYSTERY REMAINS UNSOLVED.

No Arrests Yet Made in the Double Tragedy at Camden, N. J.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 14.—The mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Ella Zane and her daughter, Mrs. Sarah M. Shaw, at their home early Tuesday morning, remains unsolved. The police authorities, together with two Philadelphia detectives, are busily engaged in following up various clues, and they express the belief that the murderer or murderers will soon be apprehended.

The police do not think the murder was committed by professional burglars and are inclined to the theory that the women were killed by a relative or some one well known to the family, who was familiar with the house and entered with the expectation of getting money.

The authorities have modified to a great extent the suspicions as first entertained against Eli Shaw, the son and grandson of the murdered woman, and who was in the house at the time the crime was committed.

His Dream Came True.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—Thomas Woodring, a Lehigh Valley car inspector, living at Easton, dreamed that he had fallen under an engine and had his arm cut off. Yesterday, after inspecting a train in the Glendon yard, he attempted to jump on an engine, when he fell underneath, and his arm was completely severed above the elbow.

Fell Out of a Window.

MANCHESTER, O., Oct. 14.—Miss Mae Harover, daughter of F. M. Harover, Republican candidate for county treasurer, while sitting in a second-story window of her home, became overbalanced, and fell to the ground, a distance of 18 feet, rendering her unconscious. It is thought that her spine has been injured.

GALVESTON, Oct. 14.—No new cases were reported as suspicious and there were no deaths from yellow fever. All the cases reported as suspicious are dismissed by the doctors, or are convalescent.

REVENUE CUTTER CORWIN BACK.

She Brought News From Alaska and the Bering Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—The United States revenue cutter Corwin, Captain W. J. Herring commanding, 10 days from Bering sea, dropped anchor in the bay yesterday evening. She brought down from the north Dr. Sheldon H. Jackson, United States general agent of education in Alaska; Lieutenant D. H. Jarvis from the cutter Bear, Whaler J. A. Peters of the wrecked whaler Navaroh, and Richard and Rollo Camden, who went up on the Eliza Anderson, but who returned to wait until spring before going to Dawson.

Dr. Jackson has been spending the summer in the Yukon river valley in the interest of the United States government. He reports the reindeer herds as doing finely, 150 trained deer being ready for freighting.

The cutter Corwin after carrying dispatches to the cutter Bear, sailed from St. Michael's on Friday, Sept. 24. Only two parties of miners remained at St. Michael's and they were expecting to start in a few hours for Dawson.

On the 26th the Corwin called at St. Lawrence island. Dutch harbor was reached on the 30th, where she met the steamship Portland bound for St. Michael's. After taking on coal and leaving her cargo of ship building she sailed on the 30th for St. Michael's.

The original purpose of the North American Transportation and Trading company to build additional steamers for their Yukon trade this winter at St. Michael's, has been changed and the steamers will be built at Dutch harbor.

On Friday, Oct. 1, the steamship Humboldt arrived at Dutch harbor, with Colonel Randall, U. S. A., and a detachment of United States troops, and left on the 3d for St. Michael's. The cutter Bear was at St. Michael's, waiting to convey the steamship Portland on her return trip with miners and their gold.

The new building for the industrial mission school at Unalaska, established and erected by the Women's Home Mission society of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States, is so far completed that the mission has moved into it. Mrs. M. F. Beiler, who has been superintending the work, is now en route to her home in Washington, D. C.

NOT NEEDED IN HAWAII.

The Cruisers Yorktown and Wheeling to Be Recalled.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A dispatch to The Herald from Washington says: It is definitely announced at the navy department that when the cruiser Baltimore leaves for Hawaii, probably next week, she will carry with her orders to the Yorktown and the Wheeling to go to Mare Island. The withdrawal of these two gunboats means that the administration is satisfied that the Baltimore and the gunboat Bennington will be sufficient to protect American interests in the islands in the future. It also indicates that the temporary need which called the two gunboats to Honolulu has expired and that the president feels safe in directing their return.

It is frankly admitted that the only reason the authorities had for sending the gunboats to Hawaii was because of a fear that the Japanese residents in the islands, instigated by their government, might precipitate a riot which would wreck the Dole administration and place them in power, unless checked by United States forces.

The authorities are now satisfied from the reports received from Admiral Miller that all is quiet in Hawaii.

WANTED TO MOB A SICK MAN.

Kentuckians Feared That Yellow Fever Was in Their Midst.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14.—A special to The Republic from Mayfield, Ky., says: An unknown man, trying to make his way from Memphis to Louisville, was put off a train here yesterday. He was later found lying near the cemetery unconscious. He was taken to the poorhouse and revived, only to rave about yellow fever.

A panic ensued and he was at once removed to a rude stable. Soon a mob of armed men charged upon the stable with the intention of burning it and the sufferer to prevent the spread of supposed yellow fever. The owner of the stable, with leveled revolvers, ward off the mob and the sick man was visited by physicians who found he was undergoing chills and malarial fever.

Valuable Express Package Lost.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Somewhere between Omaha and Denver a package containing $14,000 has been lost. The money was sent by registered package by a bank in Chicago to a financial institution in the west. Inspector James E. Stuart of the postoffice and his men have been hard at work on the case several days, but their endeavors can trace the money westward from Chicago only as far as Omaha. At that point all records of the small box are lost. The authorities refuse to give either the name of the bank sending the money or the one to which the package is consigned.

Result of the Indianapolis Election.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 14.—The official and unofficial returns of Tuesday's election show the vote for mayor to be: Taggart, Democrat, 20,188; Harding, Republican, 16,180. Taggart's plurality over Harding, 4,008. The probabilities are that the majority may be increased. Taggart's majority over all is at this time 2,955, there being six mayoralty candidates. The remainder of the Democratic ticket is also elected, though by a somewhat smaller majority than that received by Taggart. The council will also be Democratic.

FREE AND IN AMERICA

Evangelina Cisneros Safely Reaches New York.

PREVIOUS REPORTS NOT TRUE.

Her Escape From Cuba Was One of the Most Daring Feats Ever Carried Out—A Public Reception Will Be Tendered Her Saturday Evening—A Spanish Judge Asks Her to Return to Prison.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Evangelina Cossio y Cisneros, who recently escaped from a Spanish prison in Cuba, was a passenger on the Ward line steamer Seneca, which arrived yesterday from Havana. At quarantine Miss Cisneros asked to be excused from saying anything about her imprisonment and escape, as she has not yet recovered from sea-sickness, from which she had suffered during her entire passage, and which kept her in her stateroom during the whole voyage. On the passenger list she was registered as Miss Juana Sola. She was traveling under the care of a gentleman who accompanied her from Havana.

When the Seneca reached quarantine the towboat J. Fred Lohman, with several newspaper representatives and four women, went alongside the steamer, and after the health officer's inspection was over they went on board and accompanied Miss Cisneros to this city.

The Cuban girl was seen later in the city, and particulars relative to her escape from Havana were obtained. She made her escape in man's attire. Her coming aboard the steamer was fraught with danger, but the young girl walked past the Spanish detectives as fearlessly as if she had never known danger of any kind.

In order to leave Havana by steamship it is now necessary to procure a passport before buying a ticket. Three days before Miss Cisneros sailed, that is, while she was still in prison, a passport was procured for Senor Juan Sola, and stateroom No. 3 was reserved for the young man. The Seneca arrived at Havana at 6 o'clock in the morning.

As soon as the vessel had tied up to her wharf two Spanish detectives came on board and stationed themselves at the head of the gang plank. They remained there all day. By 6 o'clock all the passengers booked were on board. So were several visitors. Friends of Miss Cisneros saw that they were well cared for and given plenty to eat and drink. After a time the chief of police came on board. He was also fed and wine.

Just before the vessel cast off her lines a slim young fellow came rushing down the wharf in an open carriage. He carried almost no baggage. He was dressed in a long frock coat, light trousers and a huge sombrero hat. He walked up the gang plank with a swagger, and in answer to an inquiry, gave the name of Juan Sola. The detectives examined his passports and told him to go aboard. Juan Sola was Miss Cisneros disguised as a man.

Sola at once went to his stateroom, from which he did not emerge until Morro castle was passed. Then Juan Sola came on deck, but in woman's garb, and as Juana Sola. In some mysterious manner the name on the purser's book was changed. The voyage toward freedom was without event.

The Cuban junta has issued an invitation to the people of Greater New York and vicinity, interested in Senor Cossio y Cisneros and the cause of Cuba to attend a reception to be tendered to the rescued young woman at Delmonico's on Fifth avenue Saturday night. The reception will really be a demonstration of sympathy with the struggling republic and speaker of national reputation will address the gathering.

Of Course She Will Obey.

HAVANA, Oct. 14.—The Official Gazette publishes an edict signed by the military judge, calling upon Evangelina Cossio y Cisneros to present herself for a term of 15 days in jail and ordering all civil and military authorities to endeavor to apprehend her, and if captured, to send her to Havana jail.

WHOLESALE ARRESTS.

Many Prominent People of Hammond, Ind., Charged With Crimes.

HAMMOND, Ind., Oct. 14.—Sheriff Hayes of Lake county, Ind., made a raid in Hammond yesterday with warrants sworn out as the result of the last week's grand jury's true bills. When he had rounded up all the citizens he was after the following were listed as under arrest for the charges specified: Marcus M. Towle, president of the Hammond National bank and founder of the city; renting buildings for improper purposes; two counts.

Henry Crawford, justice of the peace; altering public records and embezzlement; two counts.

Frederick F. Friendly, justice of the peace; embezzlement.

George Randolph, alderman Second ward; compounding a misdemeanor.

Henry Burge, township constable, suffering a prisoner to escape.

Max V. Crawford, deputy city marshal; altering the public records.

Other arrests of citizens were made for minor offenses.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—John Armstrong Chanler, the divorced husband of Amelia Rives, and great grandson of John Jacob Astor, is reported to be insane in the Bloomingdale asylum. Mr. Chanler left the city suddenly last spring and it was said by his friends that he had gone to Europe. The fact has leaked out that he is in Bloomingdale, under treatment.

BICYCLE FATALITIES.

Alarming Increase of the Number Throughout Great Britain.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Bicycle casualties, fatal and serious, are increasing at an appalling rate. Many towns of the first and second class throughout the country are placarded with warnings, cautions and stringent rules for the government of riders issued by the municipal authorities. A statistical authority has figured it out that more people have been killed and injured through wheel accidents for the year ending Sept. 1 than in all the railroad accidents that have occurred in the United Kingdom for eight years. The epidemic, for so it may be called, is no respecter of persons, the victims coming from the tenement house as well as from the castle.

The list of killed for the past fortnight is headed with the name of Hon. Barry Maxwell, son and heir to Baron Farnham, who sits in the house of lords as a peer of Ireland, and the blow to the family is the greater from the fact that he is the only son and heir of the house who has come of age during his father's lifetime for 100 years. His coming of age was celebrated but six weeks ago. His name is followed by those of the sons of two retired millionaire manufacturers. Scorching and inability to keep the wheels under control in the hilly sections of the country are the chief causes of the abnormal number of casualties. Nevertheless the number of new riders is daily increasing.

Railroad Engineer Killed.

LONDON, O., Oct. 14.—William Brink, an engineer on the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railway, while running a westbound freight train, was struck by a bridge near here and killed. The engine that Brink was driving is of the mogul type, the boiler separating the engineer and fireman. As the whistle was not sounded for brakes as the train approached Thrifton, the fireman thought everything was not right and, stepping around the boiler, he found Brink lying on his seat dead. Brink lived with his mother in Covington, Ky.

Charged With Embezzlement.

FORTORIA, O., Oct. 14.—John P. Warner, who has been conducting a stock exchange in this city for the past two months, but who, prior to that time, represented a number of flouring mills on the road, has been arrested, charged with having embezzled $1,485 belonging to the Nevada Milling company of Nevada. O. The complainant was James W. Williams, a member of the milling company. Mr. Warner waived examination and was bound over in the sum of $2,000 to appear Nov. 4.

Widow Farmer Accepts $3,500.

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 14.—The widow of Moses Farmer has accepted $3,500 in full settlement of her claim against the Pennsylvania company. About two years ago her husband was standing on the street in North Lawrence, when a freight train approached and ran into a brewery wagon then crossing the tracks. The driver of the wagon was unhurt, but the wagon itself was tossed into the air and descended upon Farmer, instantly killing him.

An Unknown Cripple Killed.

STURBENVILLE, O., Oct. 14.—The fireman on the westbound Panhandle passenger train No. 5 discovered the body of a man on the tracks within the city limits in time to prevent running over him. Investigation showed that the man had been struck and killed by an eastbound freight. He was nearly 60 years of age and was a cripple, his left leg being shorter than his right. He has not been identified.

DEATHS FROM FEVER

An Alarming Increase in Number in New Orleans.

NINE IN TWENTY-FOUR HOURS.

During the Same Time There Was Twenty-Eight New Cases Reported to the Board of Health—Thirteen New Cases at Mobile, but No Deaths—Reports From Other Infected Places.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14.—Yesterday was the record smasher in the number of deaths in a single day from yellow fever since the sickness was first reported in New Orleans. It is difficult to find the cause except in the fact that concealment, neglect and rebellion against the authority of the board of health have made it difficult for the physicians to give proper attention to cases. There have been nine fatalities reported during the past 24 hours. Heretofore the highest number of deaths in any one day has been six. There have been 28 new cases.

At the board of health there was some discussion among the gathered physicians as to whether the disease had assumed suddenly a more virulent form or whether an aggregation of circumstances had sent up the list of deaths. Prominent doctors say they do not believe the disease has become more malignant in type. They believe that the fact that on some days there have been four or five deaths, on succeeding days no deaths, and then four or five again, goes to show that the fever has been as eccentric before as it is now.

The record of deaths and new cases for the past 24 hours are as follows:

DEATHS.

Salvator Fortana.
Antonio Corvajo.
Edward C. Ray.
Giovanni Cirica.
Isadore Scheurer.
Charles Sauer.
A. La Buzza.
Henry E. Wells.
Joseph Saitta.

NEW CASES.

Christian I. May, Giovanni Cucia, Belle Phillips, John Johnson, Frank Haveleg, James Barriety, Louisa Lugenbuhl, W. E. Muff, F. Mills, Stephen Sangoli, Minge Dixey, Ed Hubner, Joseph Bell, Hunter C. Leake, Miss Maud Mallett, Dr. J. Spruell, Miss L. Pleasants, J. F. Cozley, Annie Wimbush, John Herbert, Miss Mary Dickinson, William Barrett, Mr. James, Miss Victoria Dick, Mr. Hoffman, Walter Bleuhler, Herbert Bleuhler, Homer Herbert.

Total cases of yellow fever to date, 685; total deaths from yellow fever to date, 77; total cases absolutely recovered, 305; total cases under treatment, 303.

A very large number of recoveries were reported to the board of health and some of them were of people who had been ill but a few days.

The board of health has received a letter from Health Officer Johnson of Plaquemines parish saying that D. Tabony had died of yellow fever. The case was regarded as suspicious and after death an autopsy was held. The case was found to be unquestionably one of yellow fever. Two others of the same family, Dr. Johnson says, were taken down with the fever, but they are now both convalescent. Dr. Johnson has been unable to trace the origin of the disease. Plaquemines parish is located below New Orleans and extends to the gulf, and there is much interest taken in the development of a case of fever in the parish from the fact that within its limits the Sicilian immigrants were unloaded last week.

Dr. Dabney reports from Clinton only two cases under treatment, that of Miss Miller, who is quite seriously sick, and Luther Menger.

The report from Nitta Yuma is to the effect that there was one new case there, Mose Blum; others doing well.

Dr. Parnell sends the following report from Edwards: Three new cases—one white and two colored; one death, John Butler, from delirium tremens.

REPORT FROM MOBILE.

Thirteen New Cases, but No Deaths For the Past Seventy-Two Hours.

MOBILE, Oct. 14.—Seven new cases in the city proper and six brought into the city from Magazine Point, three miles out, make up the record for the past 24 hours. Eight recoveries are reported; no deaths for the past 72 hours. Total cases to date, 142; deaths, 20; recoveries, 80; remaining under treatment, 42. New cases—Joseph Edmundson, Mrs. R. F. Mehler, Ambrose Lew, Sylvester Agee, Frank Lyon, S. J. Haley and Fuller Henderson.

The six cases from the steamship Kate, now in the city hospital, are—Lewis Utz, Joseph Muscat, Micommo Regbert, Hann Johnson, Hans Olsen and George Olsen.

Three more cases have been reported on the steamer, but they are convalescent and are declared to have had yellow fever. The crew will be placed in a house across the river and the steamer will be fumigated. There has been much malarial fever on the Kate since she came into port.

One Death at Wagar, Ala.

WAGAR, Ala., Oct. 14.—R. C. Settles, superintendent of the Wagar Lumber company, died here last night of yellow fever. Settles was from Ohio and had been south some time. Recently he and his wife paid a visit to their home, but he returned alone when the yellow fever was announced in the south, leaving his wife behind.

Crowds Were Infatuated.
Victor Herbert and his famous Twenty-Second Regiment Band of New York played daily concerts at the Nashville Centennial for five weeks and two days, and the vast crowds that assembled there daily seemed simply infatuated by the music of the superb band. It might have been this that led the Daily American to say, (Aug. 22): "The man in Nashville who is most interesting to-day to the public is Victor Herbert. It is something to be as great a musician as Herbert, and interest in greatness is certainly worthy."

This great musician and famous band will appear in grand concert at the opera house Tuesday afternoon, October 26th.

GOODING VERSUS GOODING.

Court of Appeals Decides in Favor of Plaintiff on the Question of Jurisdiction.

The Court of Appeals Tuesday affirmed the decision of Circuit Judge Perkins, of Covington, in the divorce case of Mattie Gooding against Hon. A. P. Gooding, of this county.

The suit was first instituted in this county, but the plaintiff afterwards moved to Kenton County and had the case transferred to Covington for trial.

The defendant claimed that the court there had no right to try the case, but Judge Perkins decided that it had, and the Court of Appeals has sustained him.

The court made an order allowing the plaintiff $40 per month alimony pending litigation, and the case is now ready to be tried on its merits.

On the face of the registration Paducah is Democratic by about 500 majority.

HOG CHOLERA.

It is Causing Heavy Losses to Some Farmers of Mason County.

Hog cholera is causing serious loss to many farmers in this county.

The Messrs. Parry, a few miles south of the city, have lost a hundred hogs, since spring, with this disease.

Several farmers of the Mayslick neighborhood have lost all their hogs.

Mr. George Wood, at the North Fork, lost a lot of thirty fat hogs with the disease recently.

A GRANDCHILD of Mr. William Roads, of this county, has diphtheria at the home of its parents near Mt. Sterling.

JOHN RUGGLES and Miss Mary E. Helphenstine, a Fleming County couple, were married this morning at the clerk's office by Rev. F. W. Harrop.

In reversing the case against John D. Young, Jr., taken up from Owingsville, the Court of Appeals says: "Upon a trial for murder, it is error for the court to refuse defendant the right to prove threats made by deceased against defendant, though they had not been communicated to the latter, but proof of such threats is only permissible for the purpose of showing whether deceased or defendant began the encounter which resulted in death."

EVERY YEAR.

GENERAL ALBERT PIKE.

Life is a count of losses,
Every year:
For the weak are heavier crosses,
Every year:
Lost springs with sobs replying
Unto weary Autumn's sighing,
While those we love are dying,
Every year.

The days have less of gladness,
Every year:
The nights more weight of sadness,
Every year:
Fair springs no longer charm us,
The winds and weather harm us,
The threats of death alarm us,
Every year.

There come new cares and sorrows,
Every year:
Dark days and darker morrows,
Every year:
The ghosts of dead loves haunt us,
The ghosts of changed friends taunt us,
And disappointments daunt us,
Every year.

To the past go more dead faces,
Every year:
As the loved leave vacant places,
Every year:
Everywhere the sad eyes meet us,
In the evening's dusk they greet us,
And to come to them entreat us,
Every year.

"You are growing old," they tell us,
"Every year:
"You are more alone," they tell us,
"Every year:
"You can win no new affection,
"You have only recollection,
"Deeper sorrow and dejection,
"Every year."

Too true! Life's shores are shifting,
Every year:
And we are seaward drifting,
Every year:
Old places, changing, fret us,
The living more forget us,
There are fewer to regret us,
Every year.

But the truer life draws nigher,
Every year:
And its morning-star climbs higher,
Every year:
Earth's hold on us grows slighter,
And the heavy burden lighter,
And the dawn immortal brighter,
Every year.

The big, hearty, healthy man is a continual irritation to his dyspeptic friend. Constipation is the root of nine-tenths of the sickness of men, and of a large proportion of the sickness of women. It can be cured easily, naturally and quickly. Nature is continually working as hard as she can to throw off impurities, and to force out poisonous refuse, matter. When there is an impediment, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets set the wheels working again without any trouble. They assist nature in a gentle, healthful, efficient way. There is nothing violent about their action, and yet it is just as certain as if it were twice as violent. "You do not become a slave to their use." They are different and better than any other pill for the cure of constipation, headache and kindred derangements. Almost all druggists understand this, and are conscientious enough to tell you so. The druggist who tries to sell you a substitute is not a safe man from whom to buy medicine. Send 21 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Detroit Man Mysteriously Missing.
DETROIT, Oct. 14.—Thomas Coffey, manager of the Detroit office of the Vermont Marble company, has been missing since Oct. 3, and his family and friends have become anxious about him. So far as known there is no shortage in his accounts.

Guilt of Horse Stealing.
FREMONT, O., Oct. 14.—G. Bumner, a young man indicted for horse stealing, was brought before Judge Buckland. He pleaded guilty and was given a term in the Ohio reformatory. The horse was stolen from C. M. Richards.

Shot From Ambush.

The White Box.
The tailor's wife took her little boy out for a walk the day after they moved next door to the undertaker's. The little fellow stopped just outside the wide windows and pointed his chubby forefinger at the white coffin within.
"What's that, mother?" he asked.
He had never seen a coffin.
"That's what they put little boys in when they're naughty," said the mother.
"That's the way God punishes."
The bonny, boisterous lad was a great trial to her sometimes when she was weary with household cares, and she resorted to almost any tale to keep him quiet.
Every day after that the brown eyed boy stood for many minutes and looked at the tiny coffin behind the heavy glass. He grew very obedient, too, but the mother had become so accustomed to fault finding that she never noticed how well he minded, but continued to scold, just the same. With every reproof his beautiful, brown eyes would grow dark with a mist of tears, and he would ask half tearfully:
"Will you put me in the white box for that, mother? Will God punish me now?"

Months passed. One day the restless feet went astray again, and the mother, in the moment of her extreme vexation, punished him more severely than usual.
"Don't put me in the white box, mother," he pleaded over and over again between his sobs.
So saying, he fell asleep. When he awoke, the fever was on him, and the pattering feet wandered away no more. Another week passed. Then the brown eyes looked up into hers, the pale lips quivered, and he said feebly:
"Have you got the white box, mother? Has God punished me yet?"
Two days later the carriages came, and bore him away in state. God's punishment had come.—Chicago Tribune.

Roman Epicures.
When at its zenith, the Roman empire laid all the barbaric countries of the world under contribution to supply the tables of its nobles and wealthy citizens with the fine luxuries of life. Asia and Africa poured in the rich spices and fruits of the tropics; Germany and the great north countries raised the grains and wild berries; Italy and the fertile land of the Franks cultivated the vineyards to make or express the wines; every strip of seacoast from the Mediterranean to the Baltic contributed its quota of fish, and the forests of Brittany yielded the wild game of the woods—birds, beasts and fowls—for the banquets of the proud, dissolute rulers of the vast empire. With the choice products of a great world so easily obtained there were wanton waste, foolish extravagance and a strange disregard of the value of expensive luxuries, and the historian dwelling upon these times delights in recapitulating the various articles of diet arranged in tempting manner upon the groaning tables at the great feasts and banquets.
But, excepting Nero's dish of peacock tongues and Cleopatra's cup of wine with the dissolved pearls in it, the menu of our modern banquets would compare favorably with those spread in the times when gluttony, licentiousness and greed for luxury were insidiously sapping the strength of Rome.—George E. Walsh in Lippincott's.

Two Prime Ministers.
One day Sir Henry Parkes, the late prime minister for New South Wales, was reading a recently published life of Mr. Gladstone, and laying down the volume for a moment he said: "I was thinking when reading it of a comparison between Mr. Gladstone's life and my own. When he was at Eton preparing himself for Oxford, enjoying all the advantages of a good education, with plenty of money, and being trained in every way for his future position as a statesman, I was working on a rope walk at 4 pence a day and suffered such cruel treatment that I was knocked down with a crowbar and did not recover my senses for half an hour. From the rope walk I went to labor in a brickyard, where I was again brutally used, and when Mr. Gladstone was at Oxford I was breaking stones on the queen's highway, with hardly enough clothing to protect me from the cold." Truly a striking and dramatic contrast between the early years of two prime ministers.—Pearson's Weekly.

Rewards That Are Sure, but Slow.
"The rewards of honesty and unswerving principle are sometimes slow, but that in the end they are sure and greater for their slow coming admits of no question," writes Edward W. Bok in "Problems of Young Men" in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Our principles are sometimes severely tested, but this testing is given us with a purpose. Holding fast to honorable principles is the basis upon which all sure successes are built. Some have to pass through more fire than others, but I firmly believe that the reward in the end is greater to those. What the world says of a man matters little in such a struggle. It is the great inner satisfaction which comes to a man that counts."

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Mme. Adeline Paffi is seriously ill here and her friends are anxious as to the outcome. She arrived in Paris a few days ago, and the usual rush of admirers visited her hotel. All have been met with the statement that the madam was too ill to receive visitors. The nature of Mme. Paffi's illness has not been divulged.

HOUSTON, Oct. 14.—There has been no further development in the fever situation here. No new cases, and the old ones are getting along well.

GO TO THE JURY SATURDAY.
The Defense Are Occupying All the Time of the Luetgert Trial.
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—The entire day in the Luetgert trial was taken up by Attorney Phalen, who spoke for the defense. He made an impassioned plea for his client, accused the police of intimidating the witnesses for the defense and denounced many of those who had appeared for the state as perjurers. He declared that the coil of circumstantial evidence on which Assistant State's Attorney McEwen had dwelt at so great length during his address to the jury, was not a chain of circumstantial evidence at all, but a fragmentary collection of distorted facts. He found flaws without number in the story furnished by the state, and declared that no jury composed of sensible men would for a moment think of returning a verdict of guilty on such evidence.
He will continue to speak another day and will then be followed by Attorney Vincent for the defense, who will close the arguments in behalf of Luetgert.
State's Attorney Deneen says that he will not consume over five hours in his closing address for the state on Saturday.

A Clerk Yields to Temptation.
BOSTON, Oct. 14.—William J. Haines, premium clerk of the Equitable Life Assurance society in this city, is missing and is a confessed defaulter. Resident Secretary Warren had reason to make inquiries of him over a premium, after which Haines disappeared. Yesterday a letter came to Mr. Warren, in which Haines said that he was unable to resist temptation with large sums of money passing through his hands daily. It is not known how much money he has taken, but the amount is estimated at $3,700. Haines was not under bonds.

American Humane Society.
NASHVILLE, Oct. 14.—The annual convention of the American Humane society opened here yesterday with a large attendance of delegates from the 200 societies in this country. The purpose of the organization is to secure such unity and concert of action as will promote the objects common to the society for the prevention of cruelties under whatever name they may be known and also to exert its influence and aid for the encouragement and development of local societies.

Back to the Scene of Their Crime.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.—Sheriff Plummer of Campbell county, Ky., and his five deputies arrived in Newport at 8 a. m. Wednesday from Maysville with the 11 men who had been taken to the jail of Mason county, Ky., for fear that a mob might avenge the assault by the 12 men on Mrs. Thomas Gleason a week ago. The men were brought back in order that they may be within the county during the investigation of the assault by the grand jury, which is now in special session.

An Infidel Dies in Peace.
NICHOLASVILLE, Ky., Oct. 14.—Death, which had been expected for 18 hours, came to Colonel John L. Logan at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The end came peacefully and he expressed no change of belief in his religious convictions, but died as he had lived, an infidel. He was 43 years old, and leaves a wife and one child. At his funeral, Mrs. Josephine K. Henry, his friend and co-believer, will deliver an oration. His death is regretted by the entire community.
